

INVITATION

*In principio erat Verbum
В началото бе Словото*

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce that the

XI INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE „LINGUISTICS, PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION AND SPORTS – Theory and Practice “, will be held on October 2–3, 2026

at Medical University – Varna in a hybrid format.

The eleventh edition of the conference, dedicated to recent approaches in theory and practice, will bring together researchers, educators, and professionals from the fields of linguistics, communication, healthcare, and sports.

The thematic areas encompass a broad range of fields in which the academic staff of the Department are actively engaged:

- Contemporary trends in linguistics, research approaches, and translation theory;
- Language, cultural studies, and medicine – interdisciplinary connections;
- Professional communication and higher education;
- Language for Specific Purposes (LSP);
- Methodology of foreign language teaching;
- Sports skills in the academic environment.

Details regarding the Call for Papers, registration, and the conference programme will be announced on the university website:
