

Professor Paolo Sbraccia is Professor of Internal Medicine in the Department of Systems Medicine of the University of Rome Tor Vergata, Rome, Italy, Chief of the Internal Medicine Unit and Obesity Center (European Association for the Study of Obesity [EASO]-accredited Collaborating Centre for Obesity Management) at the University Hospital Policlinico Tor Vergata, Rome, and Director of the Specialization School in Internal Medicine.

He is also currently serving as Treasurer and member of the Board of Trustees of the EASO, and President of the Italian Barometer Diabetes Observatory Foundation. In addition, Professor Sbraccia is Former President of the Italian Society of Obesity and of the Italian Federation of Endocrinology, Diabetology, Andrology, Metabolism and Obesity.

He was also a member of the Scientific Advisory Group for Diabetes and Endocrinology of the European Medicines Agency (2008–2015).

In 2024, he was appointed to the Steering Committee of the Italian Society of Obesity, for the development of new Obesity Guidelines under the auspices of the Italian NIH.

He is also a coauthor of the EASO new framework for the diagnosis, staging and management of obesity in adults, as well as of the EASO Framework for the pharmacological treatment of obesity and its complications.

Prof Sbraccia published over 160 papers on peer-reviewed journals (H-index 44) and he is a member of the editorial boards and reviewer panels of various scientific journals; in particular, he is Section Editor for Diabetes and Endocrinology of Eating and Weight Disorders and Associate Editor for Internal and Emergency Medicine.